

Restart of Infant Medical Examinations

Due to the COVID-19 infection prevention measures we had suspended infant medical examinations (for infants who are 4 months, 1 year and 6 months and 3 years and 4 months old) however, now that the state of emergency has been lifted we will resume examinations from June.

Regarding the June medical examinations, they will be carried out on the days specified on the notification card sent out at the beginning of May. Those who could not attend their examinations during April and May due to examinations being suspended, you will be sent an individual notice card. Furthermore, in order to prevent crowding of the venue, we will regulate the number of people for each day, so please come on the date shown on your notice card where possible.

In addition, depending on the COVID-19 Virus situation, there may be changes or cancellations of the examination days so we kindly ask for your understanding in these matters.

Due to the influence of the COVID-19 Virus, those who were unable to attend their infant medical examination (for 1 year old infants) during the term of validity (from 9 months old until the end of the month after their birthday month), if you still wish to have your medical examination please consult your nearest health center.

Eligibility: Infants born after January 2018.

※You can extend the medical examination period, however we advise completing the examination by the end of the month after your child`s birthday. (Updated on 22nd May)
